this book is the result of a three day conference held in april 2014 at the university of montreal canada discussing the relevance of the work of hegel and marx in today s world particularly with regard to the ecological economic political and anthropological crisis facing humanity accordingly the book an exploration of the specific nature of the crisis we face both in our everyday lives and in the realm of theory however if indeed the necessity of a proper critique kritikos is intimately linked to a state of crisis krisis the conceptual frame necessary to produce such a critique may itself be in crisis among the vast number of critical oppositions to contemporary capitalism what are the keys available to understand the present forms of human conditions alienation and exploitation controversies and divisions among the different tendencies within the critical tradition tend to highlight the point that there is also a theoretical crisis which prevents a proper diagnosis of the actual crisis and prevents in turn a proper plan of action from being established looking back to marx and hegel allowed a return if not to the sources at least to two unavoidable influences among the various critical approaches to capitalism be it with or against hegel and or marx the criticisms of modernity post modernity and capitalism cannot neglect the shadows of these thinkers both marx s and hegel s philosophical sociological and political enterprises must be linked historically to the will to diagnose and solve what they saw as the most important crises of their own time from in hegel s case the spiritual crisis which followed the advent of modernity and its accompanying turmoil to the social and political crisis caused by capitalism and the advent of a new industrial society in marx s case both intellectual ventures are at every turn haunted by the notion of crisis this book will appeal to anyone interested in hegel s and marx s philosophical and political theories not only does it provide the historical context necessary to understand properly the relation between marx and hegel but it also places the relevance of their teachings for the contemporary reader in perspective walking shadows focuses on the american fantastic and the american grotesque attempting in this manner for the first time to establish an overview of and a theoretical approach to two literary modes that have often been regarded as essential to an understanding of the american cultural canon the central importance of these two literary forms has been pointed out earlier by important theorists such as stanley cavell david reynolds and william van o connor a number of literary works from the beginning of the nineteenth to the end of the twentieth centuries are taken up in order to illustrate the inherent links or family resemblances between the two modes with special reference to the way in which a bakhtinian reading may facilitate our appreciation of their status within the canon these excursions into the house of fantastic and grotesque fiction may be of interest not only to hardcore aficionados but also to philosophically minded readers in general in particular perhaps to those who have paid acute attention to debates on late twentieth and early twenty first century post structuralism and deconstruction where the classic positions of foucault derrida et al still appear to be relevant
